

Terms of Use - Market Insight Data

Our market data sources and restricting access

Market data provided by Seafish is purchased from external data providers. We have contracts in place with each data provider that stipulate we must only share access to detailed data with levy payers or seafood businesses which supply seafood to the UK seafood market. This also includes trade associations that represent the interests of seafood businesses, and government. To share data with any other parties is a breach of our contractual agreements.

We carefully monitor any/all access requests and will restrict requests from individuals and organisations that do not fulfil the qualifying criteria. This includes (but is not limited to) consultants, non-levy paying businesses, media, agencies, education etc.

Terms of use

Your use/continued use of the data indicates that you have accepted these terms and conditions in their entirety and without change. Seafish reserves the right to amend these terms and conditions. Notification of any such amendments will be posted on the Seafish website.

- Market information must not be resold for commercial profit or gain.
- Where data/insight is used or reproduced Seafish should be credited alongside the original source i.e. Nielsen or NPD CREST.
- Consultants on temporary contract with a levy paying seafood business need to provide supportive evidence to that effect from the seafood business. The market information must be solely used for the benefit of the seafood business and must not be resold or used for other commercial profit or gain. When the contract ends both the consultant and seafood business agree to notify Seafish market insight immediately.
- In line with GDPR regulations, users inactive for a 6 month period agree to have their account deleted.
- All material included is intended for general information purposes only. It is not intended to be legal or professional advice. Users should take appropriate action to verify the information provided, and should not act or refrain from acting on the information contained without first verifying the information and obtaining their own legal and/or professional advice.
- Information may be changed or updated without notice. Seafish is providing the information on an 'as is' basis and makes no representations or warranties of any kind with respect to the Seafish website or its contents and expressly disclaims all such representations and warranties. In addition, Seafish makes no representations or warranties about the accuracy, completeness or suitability for any purpose of the information and related graphics published.
- The information contained may contain technical inaccuracies or typographical errors. All liability of Seafish howsoever arising for any such inaccuracies or errors is expressly excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- Neither Seafish nor any of its employees or other representatives will be liable for loss or damage arising out of or in connection with the use of the data. This is a comprehensive limitation of liability that applies to all damages of any kind, including (without limitation) compensatory, direct, indirect or consequential damages, loss of data, income or profit, loss of or damage to property (whether or not advised of the possibility of loss) and claims of third parties.

- Notwithstanding the foregoing, none of the exclusions and limitations in the clause are intended to limit your rights as a consumer under local law or other statutory rights which may not be excluded nor in any way to exclude or limit Seafish's liability to you for death or personal injury resulting from our negligence or that of our employees or agents.
- Seafish does not accept any liability in connection with any third party sites that can be accessed through the Seafish data and does not endorse, approve or take responsibility for the contents of any such site.
- In relation to any dispute arising out of use of the data, the user and Seafish agree to submit exclusively to the jurisdiction of the law of Scotland.
